jpcenter.ru & carvx.jp are hereunder referred as "2 sites"

These 2 sites collect all the auction sheets from reliable auction houses.

The auction sheet is a very important document. At the time the car was sold in auction house; it states the mileage; the auction grade including whether the car was accident or not; parts that were changed; dents and scratches, etc.

Had the auction sheets and the reports of these 2 sites been false and/or tampered; the auction houses and Japanese government would have sued these 2 sites.

No consumer complaints or abuse complaints have been registered against JPCenter.ru or CarVX.jp

Salim Auto is not a shareholder of these 2 sites.

Importers who have imported accident cars or tampered mileage cars will cheat you by saying that these 2 sites are not reliable because their forged auction sheet don't tally with the auction sheet on these 2 sites.

Check each of these 2 sites rating at <https://www.scamadviser.com>

You cannot trust an auction sheet that cannot be verified.

The auction sheets of many accident cars and cars grade below 3.5 have been tampered and submitted at MOC (Ministry of Commerce) in order to get approval of import permit.

The question is simple, who or what do you trust:

Mauritian car dealers that have forged documents to declare used cars as new cars and who can't give a website to verify their auction sheet or

2 sites which have safe rating of 98 % for jpcenter.ru and 81% for carvx.jp ?

See below

Your car dealer must instruct MOC to give you the auction sheet which is at MOC.

If the auction sheet submitted at the MOC is not same as the auction sheet on either of these 2 sites, file a complaint at CCID to investigate via Interpol to investigate who forged it?
